SIERRA MADRE FOR JOHNSON

AT THE PRIMARY ELECTION

Other Progressive Candidates Fall Behind in the Voting in This Precinct

Sierra Madre city precinct registered a peculiar vote at the primaries last Tuesday, with Johnson and Wallace strongly leading the Republican ticket. Most of the other candidates to receive the approval of the local voters were "regulars," including the precinct delegates to the county convention.

The sweeping progressive victory in the state at large surprised even the most enthusiastic Lincoln-Roosevelt. The results have been so fully presented in the daily papers as to make it unnecessary to devote more space to it.

Local election officials were: Greer Caskey, C. H. Perry, clerks; Roland A. Adams, V. L. Graham, Jr., ballot clerks; H. W. Jackson, A. L. Caskey, inspectors; W. E. Deutsch, C. J. Pegler, judges.

The highest number of votes received by any Republican candidate was 108, cast for County Superintendent Keppel, one of the candidates who had no opposition. This is a few more than two-thirds of the total registered Republican vote of the precinct. With all the faults of the present primary law the vote is certain proof that the mass of voters can and will take more interest in making nominations than under the old caucus system when the delegates to the machine-ridden county convention were named by any number of voters from a handful up.

Electioneering was actively indulged in by both regulars and Lincoln-Roosevelt men, especially over the candidates for delegation to the county convention. This vote seems to show the relative strength of regulars and progressives in the precinct, as indicated in most of the other offices save those of governor and lieutenant governor, where the progressive candidates just about reversed the usual figures. The vote for delegates stood as follows: W. S. Andrews, (L. R.) 48; F. D. R. Moote, (L. R.) 48; J. C. Dickson, (L. R.) 47; J. J. Graham, (Reg.) 64; N. H. Hosmer, (Reg.) 67; J. H. Wright, (Reg.) 67; J. A. Patterson, 1.

Three votes were cast for the Prohibition candidate for governor. Five votes were cast for the socialist candidate for governor, but only one man was a sufficiently ardent socialist to think it worth while to mark up the rest of the ticket. Graham, Hosmer and Wright are apparently elected delegates to the county convention of the socialists, as their names were written in on three of the socialist ballots.

The vote for republican candidates on the entire ticket was as follows:

MAYOR JONES' BEREAVEMENT

Word has been received of the death of the venerable father of Mayor C. W. Jones, which occurred Tuesday at Indianapolis, Ind., while Mr. Jones was on the way east in an effort to reach his father before the final summons came. Mr. Jones was first informed by telegram last Friday of the serious illness of his father, but at first the near approach of the end was not so apparent as to seem to demand that he go east. Later word was less encouraging and Mr. Jones left for Indianapolis Sunday. The telegram announcing the end was received by Mrs. Jones Tuesday. Mr. Jones, the elder, is well remembered by many Sierra Madre people, having spent several months visiting his son here last year. It is supposed that he will be buried at the old home at Pennville Ind. Mr. Jones has the sympathy of the community in his sorrow.

IMPRESSED BY CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Kersting had as guests on Monday Mr. and Mrs. John B. Lurger of Hartford, Conn., and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Burnett of Los Angeles. Mr. Lurger is vice president of the Travelers' Insurance Company of Hartford. Because of the fact that his company has been loaning much money in Southern California, Mr. Lurger is making somewhat careful investigation into conditions of business and growth hereabouts. He finds much cause for wonder on all sides at the pace set in business and upbuilding of the country.

MASONIC INSPECTOR COMING

Sierra Madre Lodge will have work in the third degree next Tuesday evening. Inspector Test is expected to be present. On this account a full attendance of the members is especially urged.

HAMMERING AWAY

Newspaperdom.—It is the continuous advertiser who builds up a successful business. So many appeals for patronage are made to the public every day that the spasmodic efforts of the occasional advertiser to create a favorable interest in what he has to sell, no matter how cleverly his appeals may be written, are soon forgotten.

A few years ago the whole world was talking about Thomas W. Lawson's vigorous assaults on the "System," because they filled large space and appeared with considerable regularity in the leading newspapers of Europe and America, but whoever hears his name mentioned now? He has dropped out of the public eye because he no longer advertises.

Ivory Soap, which has been on the market upwards of thirty years, is more popular today than it was twenty years ago, even though no more money is being spent in its exploitation. Why? Because its advertising never stops!

The wrecks that line the shores of the business world are more often the results of injudicious, ill-advised and freak advertising campaigns than of bad selling methods or lack of merit in the articles exploited.

J. G. Slayton has received news of the death of her sister, Mrs. H. O. Joseph, which occurred on Sunday at Grand Rapids, Mich. A sad feature was the fact that Mr. Slayton was looking forward with pleasure to a visit which his sister had planned to pay him here next winter.

WILL DISCUSS CITRUS WORK

CONVENTION AT POMONA

Problems of the Citrus Grower Will Be Considered at Big Convention Next Month

Growers of citrus fruits are interested in a convention to be held next month in Pomona, concerning which Horticultural Commissioner J. W. Jeffrey has addressed the following letter to the growers:

To California Citrus Growers:

There will be a state convention of citrus growers, held under the auspices of the state commission of horticulture on the 13th and 14th of September at Pomona. A hall has been provided with a seating capacity of over 500 and I expect to see every seat in that hall occupied. This meeting has been called at one of the most central of the citrus fruit districts of the state, and arrangements will no doubt be made to secure greatly reduced railroad rates.

Broadly speaking, the discussions at this conference will be confined to the physical problems of our citrus fruit grovers, eliminating as far as possible the effects of insect pests and considering questions relating to plant physiology, pathology and botany and their correlatives of plant propagation, varieties, soil, physics, active diseases and decadence of citrus trees from climatic and other ulterior causes.

In many of our citrus groves deterioration has been expressing itself in barrenness, in lack of health and vigor and in poor quality of fruit. The problems involved in these efforts are of great obscurity; they are found in every locality in the state; if they are not met with wisdom and understanding the citrus fruit business cannot remain prosperous or our land values be maintained. It will be the business of the coming conference to get together the sum of the views and experiences of trained observers, scientific investigators and practical growers, and to unite in business-like council the factors able to solve these obscure problems or at least able to provide some plan for their solution. To do this the order of business and the discussion will be directed toward results, and the elimination attempted in all matters that may be narrow or valueless in their application or whose consideration would lead to no definite results.

As soon as the order of business is the conference will be published. Men of definite views will be expected to make this meeting a success and I hope a large and helpful convention will assemble to consider the problems now confronting some of our best citrus centers. I also ask that all citrus fruit associations and independent shippers take official action in favor of this conference, and send delegates to properly represent them. Every citrus grower is urged to attend.

Respectfully yours,
J. W. JEFFREY,
State Commissioner of Horticulture.

BY THE WAY

"Toljuso!" Any man who cannot find something in the primary results over which to say that is a poor guesser.

"First Aid to the Stung" is the title of a current magazine article. Respectfully commended to the consideration of about 'steen dozen "also rans."

Editor Crooks of the San Fernando Press walks on the floor or ceiling with equal facility, and expects his readers to do likewise. He has acquired the habit of printing his inside pages upside down.

It is a significant fact and more than a co-incidence that the slayers of McKinley and of Gaynor, years apart, had upon their persons clippings from inflammatory editorials in the Hearts papers of New York. Both men were literally hounded by the Hearts papers till the assassin-like journalism stirred to action the weak minded men who fired the shots and had to take the punishment which should have been meted out impartially to the instigators of the crimes.

W. F. Axtman, until recently editor of the South Pasadena Record and one of the most capable newspapermen in Southern California, has purchased the business of the Alhambra-Advocate. Good news to his many friends who hated to see him drop out of the harness. Incidentally the Alhambra has had a novel career during the recent campaign. Starting as independent republican, with Lincoln-Roosevelt leanings, under W. E. Willis, it was purchased by C. H. Randall and became strongly Lincoln-Roosevelt. Mr. Axtman took charge just in time for the last issue of the primary campaign, making it an enthusiastic Stanton and McLachlan paper.

NOT ALL JOY

Having enjoyed something more than a year of citizenship in greater Los Angeles, the people of the harbor cities are still awaiting the blessings promised to follow annexation. The following paragraphs from the Wilmington Journal tell something of the feeling down that way just now:

"The man who waits for Los Angeles to keep her promises will have to take a long vacation in order to allow eternity to catch up with him.

"Too much Los Angeles is the only thing in the world that is the matter with Wilmington. We'll show 'em all a clean pair of heels when we begin to do things for ourselves.

"Lost or Stolen—One high school. Information regarding the whereabouts of same will be thankfully received by any of the gentlemen who used to believe in those promises made by Los Angeles

"Everything comes to him who waits"—except the fulfillment of those ante-consolidation promises."

THE MISER OF SAG HARBOR

"Economy," said Daniel W. Field, the millionaire shoe manufacturer of Boston, who at the age of 45 has entered Harvard—"economy is essential to wealth, but by economy I don't mean niggardliness. Too many men fail to attain to wealth because they practice a cheese-paring and mean economy that gets everybody down on them. They practice, in fact, an economy like that of old William Brewster of Sag Harbor. William, you know, would never buy oysters because he couldn't eat shell and all."—Exchange.

A COINCIDENCE

The Wasp.—The following editorial from the New York Evening Journal of June 2nd was found in the pocket of the assassin who shot Mayor Gaynor. "Some genius has a plan for putting uniforms on the little employes of the city. Says the genius who advances this: 'Many of the employes protected by civil service waste the city's time. They are off duty many hours. They neglect their work. They sit around in saloons. They do not earn the money the city pays them. Put uniforms on their backs, write on their caps in gilt letters the work they are supposed to be doing. Then the citizens and taxpayers could watch them and ask them why they don't go to work.'

"The Evening Journal does not indorse this suggestion of the brilliant-minded schemer who would put uniforms on small men to keep them honest. If you are going to put uniforms on anybody put the uniforms on the big men, the Commissioners and the Deputy Commissioners, the engineers and the others that get the big salaries and often don't earn them."

It is rather a remarkable coincidence that, when President McKinley was shot down in cold blood at the Buffalo Exposition the anarchist who was shaking hands with the kind-hearted President when he murdered him was found to have in his pocket a clipping from another Hearst newspaper. The clipping recited in doggerel how the bullet which found lodgment in Garfield's breast could not be found in all the West, for the good reason that it was on the way to similar duty to President McKinley. The demonstration of angry citizens in front of the Hearst offices in New York while McKinley lay in the shadow of death was not an encouraging sight for the editorial staff, but evidently it did not change their policy in any essential particular.

AT THE THEATERS

Burbank

"The Talk of New York" is acknowledged to be the best musical piece ever given at the Burbank Theater, and this George M. Cohan melange of drama and music has proved so popular that it will be repeated next week.

Percy Bronson as Kid Burns does the best work he has ever done in Los Angeles. He makes the slang hero a real, live character, with much genuine humor and shows himself worthy of serious consideration as an actor.

Marjorie Rambeau, cunning as ever, sings with delicious sweetness and wins many encores, her "Mary Got On" at New Haven" being especially liked.

Belasco

The Belasco company will offer Hoyt's well liked comedy, "A Contented Woman," for its offering next week. This satire on "Votes for Women" was written long before the movement for a general enfranchisement for woman-folk was started and while there have been a number of plays dealing with the suffrage problem written since, none has superseded "A Contented Woman" for really delightful comedy treatment of this much discussed question.

When Hoyt seized upon the women-have-a-right-to-vote law in Denver as the basis for his play by running a young husband and wife against each other for the office of mayor, he provided three acts of rare fun.

Richard Vivian will have the role of Benton Holmes, the young husband, while Helene Sullivan will be his stage-wife, who wins success at the polls. Ida Lewis will be the Aunt Jim of the performance and should give a capital impersonation of the husband-baiting female who goes so far in her fight for women as to wear masculine garb—even including "pants."

Following this hilarious Hoytian farce, the Belasco company will give for the first time by any stock company, Charles Rann Kennedy's great play, "The Servant in the House." Hobart Bosworth will have the important part of Manson, with Frank Camp playing the drain-

NOT IN COLD STORAGE

California Weekly.—It is not true that the National Forests of California are to be held in cold storage for the benefit of the East, that, having destroyed its heritage, now seeks to hold our forests for a profit to the national treasury to the retarding of the development of this state. It is a plausible lie, but it is a lie. The Forest Service now has contracts for the sale of 200,000,000 board feet of timber in California, and the highest bidder will be allowed to cut one billion feet if he wishes to, but under conditions that will prevent monopoly, the ruining of the watersheds, waste of the timber, and that will insure a new growth to take the place of the old. Contrast this with the 2,000,000 acres (forty billion feet), held by T. B. Walker, who importunes the state to relieve his timber from taxation and refuses to allow one tree to be marketed. His holdings are worth $80,000,000, and yet he puts them in cold storage that they may be worth more. One-fourth of all that the Forest Service receives goes into the state treasury. All that Walker may receive will go into his pockets. Against private monopoly no word of protest is spoken by the hired knaves who are denouncing conservation.

Out of Reach

Pretty little chorus girl sitting on the beach;

Along comes a chappie, and says, "You're a peach!"

"I may be what you say," she speaks, putting on a frown.

"But don't think for a minute that you'll ever shake me down!"

—The Quince.

A blind man in Khoota (a Caucasian village) came back from the river one night, bringing a pitcher of water and carrying in his hand a lighted lantern. Some one, meeting him, said: "You're blind; it's all the same to you whether it's day or night. Of what use to you is a lantern?" "I don't carry the lantern in order to see the road," said the blind man, "but to keep some fool like you from running against me and breaking my pitcher."

A famous North Carolina clergyman, while preaching from the text, "He giveth his beloved sleep," stopped in the middle of his discourse, gazed upon his slumbering congregation, and said: "Brethren, it is hard to realize the unbounded love which the Lord appears to have for a large portion of my auditory."

Makart, the great Viennese painter, was taciturn to a fault. It is related of him that once at a dinner party he sat next to Mme. Gallmeyer for a whole hour without uttering a syllable, when his fair neighbor playfully nudged him with her elbow and said: "Come, Herr von Makart, let us change the conversation."

Sewing done at home. Mrs. V. Leopardi, second house North of Highland on West side of Auburn. 45*

The subjoined item appeared in a French newspaper: "There was found in the river this morning the body of a soldier cut to pieces and sewed up in a sack. The circumstances seem to preclude any suspicion of suicide."

James Albery, the dramatist, was descending the steps of his club, when a stranger addressed him thus: "I beg your pardon, but is there a gentleman in this club with one eye of the name of X—?" Albery answered the question at once by another. "Stop a moment. What's the name of his other eye?"

AN OLD WOMAN

There was an old woman who lived in a shoe. She had so many children that she wasn't recognized in the best society. Her husband was an honest man, had died without leaving her a cent, there being no other course open to him in the land of the free and the home of the brave. Everything that the children might have worn, had there been any money, was taxed so by a high tariff that it couldn't have been bought anyway. In the circumstances there was, of course, nothing else for the old woman to do. She spanked them regularly, and realizing that she had made a terrible mistake in bringing them into the world without the slightest excuse, she put them to bed.—The Wasp.
